

GERMAN PLANT TO BE ERECTED HERE

Council at Informal Session Practically Decided on Plan for Disposal of Garbage.

HEAT WATERWORKS BOILER

City Attorney is Authorized to Draw up Contract and Embodiment Specifications in Agreement.

The city council, at an informal session held in the commissioners' room this morning, practically decided to accept the proposition of the Henry Flamm company of Chicago to build a garbage incinerator with 25-ton capacity for $15,000. City Attorney J. K. Scott was authorized to draw up the contract according to the specifications as agreed by the commission. This will give Rock Island the first incinerator in the United States after German patents.

The incinerator, 24x25 feet, is to be constructed next to the waterworks on Twenty-fourth street, and heat which results from the burning of the refuse will be used on one of the boilers of the waterworks, thus saving what A. G. Kerr, representative of the company declares will be one-half the fuel bill of the waterworks, or $4 per day.

Fire Proof Building.
The building will be constructed of vitrified brick, will have a tile roof, and steel sills. It will be absolutely fireproof.

Mayor McConochie, Commissioner Jull and Building Inspector Johnson will go over the specifications to estimate the value of the physical equipment. Commissioner Rodgers asked this in order to determine just exactly how much the city was paying for the "job." Mr. Kerr declared that, to build the plant for $15,000, but $3,000 was left above actual cost of construction and that in this $3,000 the company must cover its expenses, such as patent rights and other incidentals. He declared that this brought the price down to a minimum, but that the company was anxious to have a plant here in which it could demonstrate the work of the German incinerator.

Commissioners' Decision.
The proposition of the Flamm company is to build this plant at its own expense and thoroughly demonstrate it in the city. The mayor and commissioners are to be the judges and if they decide that the company lives up to its guarantee, then they can accept the plant. And if not, they can refuse it and the company will have to take it away.

"The fact," said Mr. Kerr to the council this morning, "you have an opportunity to try it."

It will require about three weeks to complete the plans for the incinerator. Straightening employed by the company in Chicago will do this. Then the contract for the work will be let. Local labor to be employed, with the exception of the steel-work in the combustion chamber. This will be done by experts in employ of the company.

The company originally bid $15,000 on a 12-ton plant. When Mr. Kerr arrived here he found that a 25-ton plant was necessary. Accordingly he changed the specifications, raising the guarantee of capacity and cut the price to $15,000.

He claims that the company is anxious to place a good plant in Rock Island for advertising purposes. He also states that it is likely that within a month ground will be broken and the work started. The plant will be completed some time in September, providing no unexpected trouble arises. The first cost each day in raising the heat of the furnace to 2,600 degrees will be the only cost of operation. The gases formed from the burning refuse will keep combustion in progress.

LOOPING LOOP AT PANAMA EXPO

Art Smith looping loop over expo grounds at night.

This is a bona fide negative taken of an illuminated aeroplane flight made by Art Smith, the "up-side-down aviator," flying at night over the Panama-Pacific exposition in San Francisco. The picture was made from a single timed exposure a few nights ago, and is now published for the first time. The shutter was exposed during the period of the flight.

Owing to the high speed of the aviator's flight and the fact that only a portion of the aeroplane was illuminated, the course of the flight only is marked on the negative, the aeroplane itself having escaped the camera. The parallel lines were made as Smith flew back and forth over the exposition grounds while gaining a height from which to loop the loop and turn the strange side spirals of which he is a master. These parallel lines "apparently start and end in the dark, as from time to time the aviator shuts off the light from his aeroplane. The trail of light is caused by the flow of brilliantly illuminated white smoke and a discharge of white fireworks from a non-explosive smoke put at the back of the aeroplane.

The lines above the Tower of Jewels, in the center of the picture were taken as the boy aviator with his aeroplane fully illuminated, so that the thousands below might observe his flight, looped toward the earth. These lines show four distinct loops in which the aviator turned complete circles in courses vertical to the earth and one back "up-side-down" loop. At times in his descent Smith, who is the world's greatest master of fancy flying, reached a speed of more than 100 miles an hour.

The aviator's name, written in large letters on the top of his aeroplane, may be easily read when he turns over in the air. Smith is 21. He comes from Fort Wayne, Ind. He taught himself to fly, and although at first found it hard to break into the flying game, at present his exhibitions are being sought in all parts of the country.

BOAST OF DRIVER GETS HIM LITTLE

Paul Yocum, Moline, Said He Was Brother of Mayor Carlson, But Is Fined Just the Same.

Auto drivers "pinched" for violation of the motor vehicle laws usually resort to excuses for disregard for the ordinance. Paul Yocum, however, who was apprehended by Officer Patrick Cary Sunday evening, had none to offer.

He relied on his claim that he was a brother of Mayor M. R. Carlson of Moline, but soon discovered that the police were either next to the fact that he was fibbing or else alleged relationship with the Moline executive cut but little ice in Rock Island.

Accordingly this morning he was assessed $5 and costs when arraigned before Police Magistrate C. J. Smith. Officer Cary said Yocum drove past a street car on Fifth avenue which was loading and discharging passengers.
